

For Immediate Release:

Shawna-Leigh A. Baker – 832.875.0655

Email: admin@2hillconsulting.com

2Hill Consulting Services Celebrates 16 Years The Ms Engineer Way!

SUGARLAND, TX (April 2022) – A story of resilience, overcoming obstacles and an entrepreneur growing to new heights, Alana Hill of 2Hill Consulting Services is excited to announce 16 years in business, new training programs including one for project managers. Before establishing 2Hill Consulting Services, Alana enjoyed a colorful career with the international technology company Schlumberger advancing from a Field Engineer to a Program Manager. In her tenure with the oilfield services giant, she not only managed multiple technology implementations, she also learned to drive an 18-wheeler!

Hill is an international change leadership expert, author, and speaker. “I specialize in building a more resilient, inclusive culture so that everyone can belong, contribute and add value right away,” she says. Her own journey provides a great roadmap for success. Hill was the second black female Petroleum Engineer to graduate from Texas A&M. Now this “oily IT geek” has created a program, www.EngineeredForPurpose.com, based on her book What’s your Catalyst? The Power of Managed Change: How Purpose and Passion Can Drive Strategic Life Change.

In the diversity-challenged worlds of energy, tech and manufacturing, women are cracking glass ceilings and breaking the mold of people who lead. Hill is one of those women. According to Catalyst, women account for 22% employees in the oil and gas field that percentage decreases with seniority. Across the world, women account for 17% of senior level-executive roles and 1% of CEO’s. Women are especially scarce in technical and field roles which often lead to advancement where they only hold 15% of those roles.

Hill is excited about the firm’s future. “We expect to grow at a rate averaging 30% per year for the next 5 years by meeting the growing demands of the talent development industry.” With a focus on excellence, 2Hill Consulting Services, LLC continues to be strategic and adaptable, proving that agility is a business's greatest asset.

###