YOU WEAR A CROWN, NOT A CAPE: HOW WOMEN IGNITE RESILIENCE AND LEAD CHANGE WITH HEART

Women in leadership roles often feel the weight of expectations while navigating constant change. Without resilience and strong connections, the risk of overextension and burnout grows—dimming both personal and organizational potential. Drawing from her own journey—including the moment she collapsed in her closet from exhaustion—Alana delivers a transformative keynote on cultivating resilience, self-empathy and meaningful connection. With honesty, humor, and proven strategies, she equips women to protect their well-being, strengthen authentic connections, and rise into their leadership with clarity and confidence. Participants will leave inspired to thrive in their careers without sacrificing themselves in the process.

BE THEIR CATALYST: LEADING TEAMS THROUGH CHANGE AND UNCERTAINTY

Do the talented individuals you lead need to be more effective? Does your team need to strengthen performance while navigating constant change? We learned in science that change needs a catalyst. The same is true for teams. Alana will guide participants in clarifying their team's mission, connecting it to the organization's strategic priorities, and recognizing the unique contributions of each team member. Leaders will leave better equipped to build trust, strengthen resilience, and influence lasting change across their teams and organizations. Leading change…the Ms. Engineer Way®.

WHAT'S YOUR CATALYST? PURPOSE. PASSION. PRIORITIES. YOUR PLAN FOR WHAT'S NEXT.

We learned in science that change needs a catalyst, but what about in life? Many professionals in today's ever-changing work environment feel stuck, complacent or even fearful about their professional growth. In order to get back on track it is necessary to reconnect with their passion and establish their "WHY".

LEADING CHANGE IN A CHANGING WORLD: TURNING RESISTANCE INTO READINESS—NO MATTER WHAT CHANGES

Change may begin with a new strategy, technology, organizational structure, or workplace culture shift—but its success ultimately depends on people. As artificial intelligence reshapes roles, skills, and ways of working, leaders must do more than implement new systems. They must build the workforce adaptability their organizations need to navigate continuous change.
